

November 1, 2010

SUP

Eating around South Florida

Meet Larry King Thursday at Brooklyn Water Bagel Co. in Delray Beach

By John Tanasychuk
November 1, 2010 02:01 PM

Talk show host Larry King is coming to Delray Beach 10 a.m. to noon Thursday to announce a partnership between The Original Brooklyn Water Bagel Co. and The Larry King Cardiac Foundation.

The bagel restaurant uses a patented system it claims "Brooklyn-izes" water and creates unique Brooklyn-style bagels.

King recently signed on to help assist the company in franchise development and international growth. His foundation, helps fund cardiac procedures for people who can't afford treatment.

All day on Thursday, 100 percent of sales in Delray Beach will go to the foundation. Buy a foundation wristband any time and receive a 20 percent discount on your meal.

King will also sign copies of his book, "My Remarkable Journey," which will be on sale for $20. His son Larry King, Jr., president of the foundation, will also be on hand.

The Original Brooklyn Water Bagel Company will open stores in at the BankAtlantic Center in Sunrise, South Beach, Palm Beach Gardens, and in Terminal 3 at Fort Lauderdale-Hollywood International Airport. Two locations are also planned in Beverly Hills and West Hollywood, Calif.

Unique Monthly Visitors: 1,111,060

http://weblogs.sun-sentinel.com/features/food/restaurants/blog/2010/11/meet_larry_king_thursday_at_br.html